

Quality Programs Powered by

STEAM*

Science, Technology, Engineering, the Arts and Math*

Developing a Targeted Assistance Title I Program

Day: Thursday, November 18, 2010
Session: 10:30 – Noon
Room: Aztec B

Presenter:

Erik M. Francis – Erik.Francis@azed.gov
Title I Targeted Assistance Program Coordinator
Arizona Department of Education

Session Description:

This session will be an overview on how to develop and manage an effective Title 1 program for Grades K-12. Topics include defining what is Title 1 under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 (ESEA) and reviewing what is a Targeted Assistance Program. Participants will define the purpose of the school's program, develop procedures for student selection, organize an eligibility list, set the supplemental instruction schedule and service delivery, and establish an assessment and evaluation process that will determine student growth and progress as well as program effectiveness.

Presenter Information:

Erik M. Francis, M. Ed., M. S., has been an educator for 14 years, working as a middle and high school English teacher and administrator. He is the Title I Targeted Assistance Program Coordinator at the Arizona Department of Education, where he created the ESEA for LEAs trainings on developing, budgeting, and evaluating Title I targeted assistance and schoolwide programs. He has created and conducted professional development trainings for educators in Differentiated Instruction, Six Traits Writing, Writing Across the Curriculum, and Structured English Immersion.

Handouts:

Title I Targeted Assistance PowerPoint
Title I Targeted Assistance ADE Web Page

2010 MEGA Conference

